

IMPACT

November 2023

Dear Friend,

We have reorganized so that we can work even better with our friends and partners in Germany. Your contact for handling donations and projects is now the newly founded Nehemiah Gateway gGmbH with Kai Uellendahl as Executive Director. The work of the entire NG Team will continue to be coordinated under the umbrella of NG Services, including business ventures, e.g. the Hotel Lindenhof in Hubmersberg, which generate income for the projects. Nothing will change for you as a donor - apart from a new bank account for donations (see next page). We are pleased to now be able to serve you even better!

In this issue, we take a look at NG's innermost values and report on our work in the social and medical fields - work that we do to bring about long-term change for many. A special community of friends and partners in the service of compassion makes this possible. Thank you for being part of this big NG family!

Through your support, people can regain their mobility, children can regain their voice and families can stand tall with dignity and independence.

We wish everyone a wonderful Christmas and a blessed New Year!

At The Heart of Nehemiah Gateway

For over three decades, Nehemiah Gateway has remained steadfast in its mission to helping people. With the compelling mission statement, „Helping and empowering people to sustainably shape and determine their lives in dignity and independence,“ our identity revolves around assisting our fellow human beings.

When Nehemiah Gateway first embarked on its journey in the early 1990s, much of our work focused on relief efforts. Many people owned very little, if anything at all, and were in dire need of external aid, including food for the hungry, medicine for the sick, and blankets for the cold. Although our efforts have made a positive impact, there are still many individuals in need, not only in Pogradec itself but also in the numerous villages nestled in the mountainous region.

Every day, the Social and Medical Improvement (SMI) program of Nehemiah Gateway strives to be a beacon of hope in the lives of many. Regularly, groups of dedicated coworkers pack themselves into cars laden with food packages, embarking on day-long journeys to deliver aid, sometimes returning well after dark during the harsh winter months. The challenging conditions of the roads leading to remote villages only add to the difficulty, with deep snow blocking access in winter, heavy rains turning dirt roads into muddy quagmires in spring and autumn, and summertime ground divots created by passing vehicles.

However, the need for assistance is not limited to remote mountainous areas. Often, city dwellers have basic necessities but require a different form of help. Our SMI program is equipped to provide physical therapy to those without alternatives. Many clients visit the NG campus for sessions to address injuries or mobility issues. In cases where clients cannot reach the campus, SMI program coworkers make home visits to ensure access to care.

As time has progressed, our programs have evolved to address emerging needs. We recognized a growing demand for services catering to children with disabilities and learning differences, such as Down Syndrome and autism. The Children's Learning Center is dedicated to addressing this need through special needs education and speech therapy. Clients of all ages visit the SMI office on our campus every week for sessions with licensed therapists. Throughout the year, events like Christmas parties and summer camps provide opportunities for social interaction and skill development for children with special needs, facilitated by our dedicated social workers.

Through these programs, we have witnessed significant progress in many of our regular clients. The Children's Learning Center has also adapted, offering group sessions to further enhance the social interaction skills of its clients. Nehemiah Gateway remains committed to its mission, evolving to meet the ever-changing needs of the communities it serves.

Nehemiah Gateway's enduring commitment to serving the most vulnerable members of our global community stands as a testament to the unyielding power of compassion and resilience. For over thirty years, we have evolved alongside the changing landscape of human need, driven by our unwavering mission to empower and uplift individuals in their quest for dignity and independence. Our journey has taken us through the depths of winter's unforgiving snows, the muddied paths of spring and autumn, and the summer's persistent challenges, but our determination to provide aid and support remains unshaken. As we forge ahead, expanding our programs to meet new and emerging needs, our promise to those we serve remains unwavering.

Nehemiah Gateway continues to be a beacon of hope, not only in some of the most remote corners of the world but also in the hearts of individuals seeking a brighter and more independent future. Together, we continue to illuminate a path towards a world where every life can be shaped with dignity, independence, and the enduring promise of a better tomorrow.
